THE SOLUTION TO ROLL AWAY SCARS IS HERE...

Special package prices are available for spring

Dermaroller™ - Scar Reduction Therapy procedure works by targeting old fibrotic scar tissue deep within the skin that may have been caused by acne or trauma. The treatment will repair the skin naturally, working below the surface, in the dermis. Over a course of treatments new collagen and elastin fibres are formed, enhancing blood circulation, generating new skin cells and softening visible scars. Results are seen within 6 weeks with a 70-80% softening and improvement in scars.

Broken capillaries – Brown spots, Redness?

Colour correction performed by our Laser specialist transforms an uneven, marked complexion into beautiful, even skin - prices start from $150.

BOTOX FOR ASTHMA

Botox may soon not only be used to eliminate wrinkles, but to smooth the way for sufferers of severe asthma. Melbourne clinicians are about to start a trial using the toxin to treat severe asthma conditions – the first such trial in the world. The Monash Institute of Medical Research will trial injections of the Botox brand of the botulinum toxin into a voice box muscle. “It’s a world first and it’s using in some ways an unconventional form of treatment for a very common medical condition” Professional Bardin said.

DR PETER LANIEWSKI
PLASTIC SURGEON

Dr Peter Laniewski is head of Plastic Surgery at Norwest Private Hospital. He was born in Sydney and trained in Plastic and Reconstructive surgery. He completed specialty training at the prestigious Royal Marsden Hospital in London.

I have had two pregnancies, my youngest child is now 4 years old and people keep asking me if I am pregnant. It really bothers me, because I only weigh 58 kilos but my stomach hangs over.

I would love to wear a bikini again!

Pregnancy can wreak havoc on women's bodies. The stretching of the skin also leads to muscle separation, which can cause a hanging or apron like stomach. When you were pregnant you may have been able to place your fingers down the centre of your tummy in between the muscles, this would have been the 2 areas of tummy muscles that usually hold your tummy in like a corset. Once these muscles have separated, they may improve slightly over time however in most cases surgery is required. If your tummy is hanging and you are not overweight I would suggest that this was due to skin sagging and muscle separation. If that is the case liposuction will unfortunately not help as it is designed to remove excess fat and recontour the hips, thighs and waist.
